Woods May Be Asked By Democrats To Retract Statement TRY TO SMOOTH AFFAIR OVER

What will the Democratic Central Committee do to Palmer Woods? It meets tonight to sit in judgment over the lone Democrat of Hawaii because he made known his loneliness and said that McClanahan would have no chance on the Big Island.

The Democrats are perfectly willing to concede that Woods is right, but they maintain that owing to his prominent position in the party he should not have said so.

While the street buzzes with talk about the dire calamities that are going to happen to Woods, the Democratic leaders have but little to say about the matter.

Rumor has it that the Central Committee will ask him for his resignation as National Committeeman, but this those high in the councils of the party deny. Col.

McCarthy, who is a member of the Central Committee, stated that there was nothing in the rumor, but could not give out what action was contemplated. McClanahan said that as he was not a member of the Central Committee he could not say what action would be taken. Woods was asked what attitude he would take.

"I cannot tell," he answered, "I have been thinking pretty hard about the matter, but I have not reached a decision yet. I shall go at the meeting tonight."

In the meantime it is understood that the Democratic leaders are trying to smooth the matter over as much as possible by having Woods sign a retraction to McClanahan, presumably to the effect that his expression was merely a personal and not an official one.

MORNING PAPER IS ROASTED FROM BENCH Reports of Murder Case Displease Lawyer For Defence

The morning paper came in for a severe grilling this morning at the hands of Judge De Bolt and the attorneys for the prosecution and also the defence this morning. Inaccuracy, statements which would influence the jury, and commenting on the testimony were three of the charges made and the court bailiff was sent out to find the man who was responsible for the trouble, but was compelled to return without him.

In today's issue of the morning paper, in speaking of the case of George Wainee, on trial for his life for the murder of Mrs. Wainee, the statement is made that one witness testified yesterday to the effect that Wainee took his wife into her room, where "he renewed his abuse of the woman." Attorney Kingsbury, for the defence, stated that this was entirely untrue and that no evidence of this kind had been brought before the court at any time. He desired that the matter should be investigated by the Court. Deputy Attorney General Prosser, who is conducting the prosecution, also wished the matter looked into, that it might be shown that he had not given any such information to any representative of the paper outside of the court-room.

Kingsbury also took exception to the statement that "thus far nothing has developed which differs materially from the reports of the tragedy published at the time." He may be requested to show wherein the statement is incorrect.

At the auction sale which took place this morning under the auspices of Sheriff Brown of the goods belonging to a Japanese named Iwata, who formerly conducted a restaurant on Hotel street, Deputy High Sheriff Sea lodged a protest with the auctioneer against the sale of the goods, on the ground that the attachment issued by High Sheriff Henry was the only legal one. ### Captain of Cruiser Refused To Assist In Saving Big American Passenger Steamer

STEAMER MONGOLIA NOW IN PORT

That the big liner Mongolia is not still lying on the reef at Midway or being pounded to pieces by the long swells of the Pacific is not through any aid given or offered by the Japanese training ship Anegawa.

That vessel, according to the accounts of all of the officers of the officers of the Mongolia, deliberately abandoned the stranded liner to her fate, refusing to do anything whatever to help her out of her dangerous predicament.

And not only that, but when Captain Porter of the Mongolia, accompanied by the purser, went on board one of the launches of the Japanese vessel to beg Captain Hanabusa to send by him and help him get off the reef, Hanabusa not only refused to do so, but roughly ordered Porter out of the launch.

The Mongolia, accompanied by the cut the shallow of an excuse. To transport Buford, was sighted at 10:30 this morning about twenty miles out. The Buford steamed in to the Navy dock and at 12:30 the Mongolia docked at Hackfeld's wharf, alongside her sister ship, the Manchuria. Two of the largest vessels in the mercantile trade had been saved from the wrath of the sea.

The only thing the officers of the Mongolia could talk about for a while was the cowardly conduct of the Anegawa and her commanding officer, Captain Hanabusa. He had deliberately left them to their fate, and with-

To a representative of the Bulletin last Wednesday the officers of the Anegawa stated that they had broken every hauger they had in trying to haul the Mongolia off the reef.
